Tyler Lindow · Founder of beginner

Pre-seed · $500,000

Team

- Solo founder.
- 3.5 years seeing how coaching can be a lever for raising funds.
- 6.5 years seeing how this works at scale through software.
- Never the gatekeeper. Always the bridge.

Problem

Strong builders sometimes never become founders.

The only way to learn fundraising today is a $500–$5,000 a month coach. So the people who become founders are the people who can afford one. Talent doesn't decide. Wealth does.

Solution

Guided interview. Published page. One-hundredth a coach.

Traction

10

paying founders on tinker today. Live product.
Live revenue. Sold direct-to-founder; now selling the partnership.

Market

$2.4 billion a year

10,000 buyers × $240,000 a year.

Accelerators, incubators, and university programs buy seats for their founders.

Average buyer: 100 founders × $2,400 per year. We sell the seat.

Ask

$500,000 → 5 anchor partnerships (~$500,000 yearly revenue) in 12 months.

$168,000 — founder salary, 12 months ($150,000 base + $18,000 benefits). I need a salary; this is what it is.

$200,000 — anchor partnerships. 3 to 5 paid pilots with accelerators, incubators, and university programs. Case studies that close the next ten.

$132,000 — sales engine. Conference presence, founder demos, outbound infrastructure, customer success tooling.

Line in the sand: personal runway ends June 2026. If the round doesn't close, I step away.

Thank you
